I have the honour to point out that the period of training for the Royal Indian Navy Fleet Reserve is one month, as stated in G.O. No. 3054 Public (Services) dated 3rd October 1947. The time spent in the journey to and from the place of training will not form part of this one month and the Royal Indian Navy has to pay for these transit periods also. The amendment suggested in this office letter No. T.M. 10-15-47-48/1947 dated 10th December 1947, therefore, appears necessary to make the position clear-Vide also note (b) under Article 8 of the Regulations for the Royal Indian Fleet Reserve reproduced in G.O. No. 3054 Public (Services) dated 3rd October 1947.

I have the honour to be, Sir
Your obedient servant,

Finance (Civil Service Regulations.)

Sub:- Fundamental Rules - Annexure 1 - Supplementary Rules under Fundamental Rule 9(6)(b)(1)- Amendment.

Ref:- From the Accountant General No. T.M.10-15/47-48-1417, dated 10.12.47. G.O. 853 Finance, dated 1.11.47.

Please see the letter from the Accountant General on p 1 c.f. According to note 2 under Fundamental Rule 105 the men of the Royal Indian Navy Fleet Reserve employed in Government service when called for training may be allowed only the time required for the journey between the place of training and the station from which he proceeds and the time so taken is to be treated as part of the period of training.

When the transit period is thus trated as part of training, it appears, that it will automatically count as duty. If so, no amendment as suggested by the Accountant General seems necessary. The attention of the Accountant General may be invited to the above note and he may be requested to state whether the Accountant General still considers that the amendment is necessary.

Subject to approval a draft memorandum is submitted.
